General Predictions for 1935

GENERAL PREDICTIONS

Mercury the planet which denotes faith in humanity and points to the path of the future, is the planetary year ruler. This planet rules thought, reason, business or employment; influences activity of mind and body. In human affairs and business, it denotes a better understanding, favors loans, credits, general financial affairs and many arrangements regarding trade leading to prosperity and improved conditions throughout the nation, but that changes will continue in many ways.

GENERAL CHART

In the nunedane chart, Mercury ruler of the speculative section, denotes changing conditions in markets, especially among raw materials, industrials and grains. As this planet is ruler of the ascending sign, retrograde and unfavorable aspected with Uranus, it may cause criticism directed probably toward government activities, politicians, public utilities and the air service. As Venus is near the same adverse aspect, it here accentuates the above and denotes that women in public affairs will make forceful comment or criticism through some discontent or dissatisfaction over political conditions, or other matters which take shape of a public nature.

Neptune near the cusp of the second section in trine aspect with Jupiter, favors financial affairs on a large scale as well as the connected combination of things for the attainment of certain plans and purposes and may incite or bring some great sensation before the people with a good influence.

The Moon conjoined with Mercury and Saturn, trine with Mars in the third section, will cause much attention to center upon public activities and utilities, but making for conservatism rather than sensationalism: especially so as the Moon denotes governmental bodies capable of assisting in floating mighty affairs for the benefit of the public need and good. The Moon is well placed in good aspect with Saturn and Mars for the development of the wants of the people, the prosperity of the workers and favors plans for the future intended to be permanent. But the conformity of Saturn and Neptune would indicate discussions of labor matters with some disturbance and local excitement, extraordinary changes, startling events and some uncertainty in the course of action, while industrial problems will reach very important discussions and solutions.

As Uranus the planet of progress is on the cusp of the ninth section well aspected by Jupiter, it denotes a higher order of intelligence will prevail; that much of the new will oppose the old with many new reforms and changes to conform to coming conditions resulting in much good generally.

In the seventh section, Neptune is retrograde and opposed by Jupiter and Venus, while Saturn also afflicts it. This means the nation should be alert against double dealings, schemes and other involvements on the part of certain foreign powers as well as subtle financial dealings and discloses some interesting things and proposals for investigation through the trend of current events. But Mars in the seventh section ruling foreign affairs and in trine aspect with Saturn, would indicate that any serious difficulty with a foreign nation this year will not occur, although diplomatic exchanges and counter proposals on some affairs will take place between the heads of government and at least one or two other nations, probably more. Mars in the eighth section denotes deaths of public officials whose efforts have been of mighty importance in affairs of the nation.

Neptune in the tenth section means sensational national issues, but as Jupiter is in trine aspect to both Neptune and the Midheaven, it is a very fine influence denoting much honor will come to high government officials through action on very important matters. But Saturn on the cusp of this section would denote trouble and misfortune to executives and people of influence and prominence: uncertainties in the money market and with events to occur of such great importance as will cause anxiety. But Saturn's good aspect with Uranus is its redeeming quality, as it denotes much effort of a helpful nature to correct conditions, promote harmony and favor constructive and industrial projects.

The ruler of the eleventh or political section posited in the tenth or official executive section, denotes some difference of opinion to occur between the law making body of Congress and the heads of government, while Saturn in adverse aspect to Neptune in the Midheaven, denotes some displeasure on the part of the people with the government, more particularly as regards naval and military affairs, while public feeling will favor more liberal changes and policies, especially as regards matters pertaining to aviation.

The dual sign Gemini upon the eleventh section, related to the physical, governs largely the expression of the public mind and expresses great crisis. Mercury the representative ruler of this sign contains an expression which lacks unity and certainty as it illustrates the nature of Gemini thoroughly in the restlessness of the people with a desire and demand for action and more favorable conditions.

Neptune in the twelfth section in good aspect with Jupiter is a very favorable influence of better conditions for hospitals, children's homes, places of restraint and confinement with a higher order of intelligent management.

Jupiter and Saturn have much to do with material things denoting changes in government supervision of utilities, production of material things, labor activities, agriculture affairs and waterways transportation because of the wide range of local conditions both east and west.

New forces and important problems of human relations will confront the people, new political alignments will occur, organized government enlarged, the field of research extended, the creation of new practical working methods applied with increase of expansion and building construction in various ways. Greater centralization of direction in accordance with the philosophies of government, but with some economic factors uncertain.

New motor roads and new methods of construction will be advanced and put into operation which will tend to help labor and business in many localities, while there will also occur development of wide and increasing air routes and all forms of travel with more effective service in the postal department.

Influences that strongly suggest improved conditions favoring new social, economical and financial affairs on a broad scope and improved mass training for young men. All of which seem to denote a rather rapid order of progress manifesting at their maximum of power is shown by the planetary configuration of Jupiter and Uranus and more especially so in the coming year as shown by the 1936 chart.

Of all the aspects in this general chart, probably none are more important than the good aspect between Jupiter and Venus which will counteract the evil influences of uncertainties and troublesome conditions, causing a change in the trend of affairs distributed through a variety of channels and which will also bring much good in social, religious and financial matters, important projects and improved conditions for the people, although some friction. Venus in opposition with Uranus, denotes activity for the progressive element as Uranus represents intense thought and quick action, uniting the people on matters of the highest importance with a more definite purpose in view.

WINTER QUARTER

The Ingress of the Sun to the sign Capricorn on Dec. 22, 1934 at 7:49 P. M. E. S. T. marks the beginning of the winter solstice and occurs with the Sun in a conjunction of Venus and Mercury approaching a square of Mars.

At this time the zodiacal sign of Virgo which represents power will be on the ascendant at the eastern horizon while Mercury its planetary ruler is posited in the sixth section of the chart. Its aspect with the Moon and Saturn somewhat favors labor in providing employment for workers in various ways, yet it denotes increase in unemployment for the time being; some advancement in the prices of many foods and probably also in shoes, clothing and other merchandise, although business or wholesale and retail merchants will not be altogether satisfied with conditions during the early part of this quarter.

Saturn in the third section denotes much cold wind, rain and snow with terrific gales along the Atlantic coast and disasters on this ocean.

The Sun in the fifth section in conjunction with Jupiter indicates speculative buying and some advancing prices. The proximity of these two planets to the sixth cusp, indicates the inauguration of large financial affairs both of domestic and foreign nature. Uranus in the seventh section well aspected, is favorable for industrial endeavor and inclines to better business working understandings nationally and internationally.

Mars, Saturn, Moon and Mercury maintain their respective order in the seventh section close to the eighth cusp in conjunction. This configuration will cause some disorder and dissention concerning the workers, foreign matters, speculative enterprises, political activities and marital relations, controversies will arise, labor troubles also, while domestic troubles and divorces will increase. Crime will be rampant, violence and kidnapping in larger cities, holdups, burglaries, mysterious conflagrations and danger to public officials, women and children.

The conjunction of Jupiter and Uranus in the eleventh section denotes political activity and excitement in Congress and the Senate, causing some animosity and controversy, while foreign affairs will cause concern. Neptune the inspirer also in this section denotes unpleasant occurrences among legislators, agitation concerning liquors, narcotics and some investigation of those employed on ocean vessels.

From the positions and aspects of the planets in this quarter, there is shown unruly behavior, unfortunate and undesirable situations and conditions. Religious revivals of powerful influence will occur and wonderful scientific inventions of great benefit will come.

SPRING QUARTER

The Ingress which takes place at the time of the vernal equinox on March 21st at 8:18 A. M. E. S. T. with the positions of Jupiter and Uranus particularly affects affairs at this time and accentuates the influence of these planets, changing the mental atmosphere of the people and favoring progress, yet it denotes matters of wages, working conditions, food supplies, political excitement and conflicting opinions will occur: interest and activity on the part of labor unions, sensational features and perplexities of public sentiment with probably some disturbances in eastern centers. It is a vibration which not every one or every business will express constructively and will therefore cause contrary expressions and opinions.

Great strides forward will occur in some directions and objections or difficulties will confront from others, although business in general will improve, municipal enterprises such as roadways and general building construction will be beneficial to the working people in many ways.

Mercury and Venus in the seventh section conjoined is a favorable combination for business activity, social and artistic conditions and improvement especially in western sections where the spirit of change, the development of new ideas and innovations will occur with progressive activities in many directions.

SUMMER QUARTER

The Ingress or Sun's apparent entry into the sign Cancer occurs on June 22nd at 3:38 A. M. E. S. T. The zodiacal sign Pisces is on the eastern horizon while Uranus and Mars are on the ascendant. Uranus is powerful and denotes an inquiring turn of mind or a tendency to changes of policy and reforms favoring improvements with the adoption of new methods and new political conditions. The good aspects of Venus and Jupiter to Uranus favor business and progress along general lines and the increased spending of money in many ways.

Mars in the ascendant stirs up the populace with forceful and aggressive tendencies. As this planet is parallel with Uranus it denotes a militant spirit with interest in affairs of the army, navy and airplane departments.

Saturn and Mars in the second section in good aspect denotes large amounts of money will be used for industrial and business purposes and for transportational facilities.

Venus on the cusp of the fourth section denotes considerable activity in connection with gardeners, small farms, fruit orchards and general produce through the incentives of the common people.

The Moon located in its own sign close to Mercury and trine to Saturn denotes benefit for smaller concerns and retail merchants.

AUTUMN QUARTER

The Ingress takes place with the Sun in Libra on Sept. 23rd at 6:38 P. M. E. S. T. As the planet Mars is elevated, it denotes unrest on the part of the working people, that new pension laws will be advocated, humanity will be viewed from a different aspect and a more progressive attitude will be advanced for the welfare of the workers and the unemployed.

Venus and Mercury both in the third section denote increased activity and progress in general affairs, interest in government management, benefit for the business of retail merchants and tends to a better order of things in general, with more liberal views on the part of industrialists, better prices for farmers in agricultural products. But in the middle states some unfortunate circumstances will confront the people.

WEATHER CONDITIONS FOR 1935

Although there are no good and bad weather aspects in astrology, yet the influence of the planets upon weather conditions as embodied in astro-meteorology, denote from the positions of the Moon and Saturn in the fourth section that much cool weather, heavy rains and even floods may occur in some sections with abundant crops, while in others shortage. Considered as a whole, the fertility of soil and productiveness of some things may be sub-normal. At least good seed, heavy fertilization and frequent cultivation should be an important matter with every farmer and gardener. Magnetic disturbances are likely to occur affecting ekectrucakkt cibtrikked ytukutues: cool weather in many sections, much snow and very cold spells in more northern states during the winter with strong winds destructive in effect.

The siderism or doctrine that the Stars influence human life and terrestrial affairs is shown by the angular and elevated positions of the planets in the public and political sections of the 1936 National Horoscope Chart and is of such vast importance as will make the General Predictions for 1936 the most outstanding ever published.

Events, changes, new relations between labor and industry, building and construction, politics and government, which will occur of a startling and highly sensational nature in the welfare and activity of the nation, as the connection of Mars with Jupiter in the 1936 chart denote an extreme range of influence, an excitable spirit in public affairs, arousing enthusiasm and activity in politics, business and finance, with some disagreement of affairs. Changes in national politics with reforms and new conditions beneficial to the government, favoring the people, trade and prosperity.

This fine Almanac for 1936 will be the most important one ever published. It will be ready Nov. 1, 1935. Orders should be placed well in advance as the demand for it will be enormous. The highly important horoscopes of the two major Presidential nominees will be included.

Twice during this year Saturn strikes the great wheat centers of North America both United States and Canada. Blight, rot and cold floods are likely to destroy the food crops.

While wages are falling, food will tend to increase in price as in many other everyday commodities.

The western coast of the United States from Vancouver to through Los Angeles to Mexico and the south will also suffer from earthquakes, fire and explosions.

United States and England will have waves of prosperity and will establish powerful and rigid trading agreements.

The friendship and good will between United States and England is increasing very greatly.

The summer quarter starts June 22nd. The Sun enters Cancer, Jupiter and Venus are now strongly placed in sign of pleasure and money, there will be a wave of spending.

We shall hear about the poverty of the people and some terrible anxiety regarding the food and wheat crops. Through the wheat belt of central western United States and Canada a great blight threatens the wheat belt.

Both Germany and France will have an exciting time over politics and earthquakes in Italy and southern France.

There will be lots of interesting developments among the Jews in eastern Europe. We shall hear much about astrology, spiritual and occult matters, a strange mystery of the sea and disappearing of people.

THE AUTUMN QUARTER

The autumn quarter starts Sept. 23rd. The sun enters Libra at that time Mars will be powerful during this quarter, strikes and labor trouble.

The Jews will be better organized, powerful and active. Wind storms in the central states and around the Great Lakes and bad news regarding the wheat crops.

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES
FRANKLYN D. ROOSEVELT

WHAT THE STARS SHOW FOR PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IN 1935

According to the mathematics of astrology the directing planets show that his true intuition does not part company with exact reasoning; that he looks to the end from the beginning and recognizes causes in operation with inevitable results through an extreme range of mental perception, even along experimental lines as well as the most practical.

The planets Mars, Moon and Neptune are rising and indicate him to be an executive ambitious of independence and honors as the man for great responsibility. Uranus in the midheaven close to the meridian, indicates that association with governmental bodies has rendered him a conspicuous figure while the trine aspect of Mercury in the ascendant to Uranus in the midheaven and the sextile of the Moon to Uranus, are sure indications of a wide popularity.

The square aspect of Mercury to Uranus shows much opposition and many veiled enmities, but due to the orientality of the planets he will retain the confidence of the majority in his ability to hold his own against all opponents, as he is capable of waiting for opportunities and finally carries his purpose with courage and decision.

Jupiter in the fifth section of his chart well aspected, denotes him surrounded by capable, honest and loyal officials to carry on his work for the benefit and welfare of the nation and shows balance and good judgment along practical lines. But the angular positions of the malific planets denote much criticism and disagreement on the part of his political opponents and many obstacles to contend with, while political conservatives and oppositionists consider him from a dangerous attitude, and he probably is to those who are opposed to his administrative acts and who refuse to go forward in the march of progress for better conditions under his present and future plans. Some of his friends may be disposed to become antagonistic as the planetary range of influence is very great, although ineffectually against his position, as Mercury, ruler of the ascendant is angular and well aspected, while Mars is weak and afflicted by Uranus which is in elevation above it.

The connection of the planets in his chart denote originality of thought, a mind free from bias and the influence of others and that he will not sacrifice others to gain his ends; while application of mind and action for the benefit of the nation is of paramount importance to him as Neptune, representing power behind the throne in good aspect to Uranus, helps build and reconstruct simply for the sake of doing good.

The Sun and Moon in good aspect overcome difficulties, prevent disaster and is an index of many achievements, general good results and continued support, although his efforts will be attended with much opposition and many troublesome matters as there are indications of many changes and some uncertainties.

THE STARS SHOW PROGRESS

Jupiter and Saturn suggest advancement and general progress for the year, although many changes in national and financial affairs as the major forces are still operating and somewhat uncertain, while the effect of the burdens upon the shoulders of the masses are still active and organized relief will have to continue for some time.

The aspect of Mars to Jupiter favors industry and mechanical affairs, yet it seems to denote increase in machine production rather than in man production of material things and a change in direction of occupation for many who must work for a living.

The clouds of uncertainty which have hovered over the depression are moving, although somewhat slowly, will soon begin to clear, separate and show the silver lining of returning confidence and greater optimism. A business sunrise or expansion in which capital and labor will join in unity and activity for the good of all in the new order of affairs which are coming.

But these planetary aspects do not indicate that all of the unemployed will be returned to or engaged in occupational effort, because they seem to denote a surplus of labor not in action.

For these reasons have faith in the good that is to come even though you cannot see or fully understand them. Keep your courage, depend on yourself and keep yourself dependable by referring to the Daily Guide and other good information in this Almanac.

THERE IS A CAUSE BACK OF EVERYTHING THAT OCCURS

Failures prove that people are mistaken in their judgment of conditions, of their own ability, or the lack of it to make good. Many are deficient in some factors that are essential to success, rather than because of opportunities.

Education and contact does not always teach people, especially those who are not observing and who do not profit by the experience of others. Often their efforts for success are not rightly directed, or due to some personal defect, habit or peculiarity that causes friction or unpleasantness in their relations and dealing with others. No one is or should be conceited enough to believe that he or she has no defect in ability, no fault of temperament, or weakness of character that needs correcting. All should guard against the little things that undermine our forces.

It is the knowing how to make the right use of ability that brings the greatest success, as it is the "know how" that counts in everything. Those whose faculties, characters and temperaments are well balanced and prepared to meet any emergency, are the ones who succeed best. Those who fail are apt to place the blame on some outside condition or circumstance, instead of recognizing the cause and placing the blame for failure where it rightly belongs.

Work, useful effort, mental or physical, is a precious privilege and a life saver, while determination to think and put thoughts into action favor progress toward success. Always think before you act. All work can be done much better by the addition of thought and always use your thoughts and ideas for the benefit of the work you do, or are associated with.

Those who know how to do things are considered the most useful persons and conceded the best in all practical ways, while the working out of ideas, benefits others, develops opportunities and new possibilities. Success in life is best made through exercise of the person's inborn ability, or natural useful talents, as success depends largely on finding out what each individual is naturally adapted for and then doing his or her best in that particular thing, while will, reason and judgment play a very important part in the success and failure of each individual.

No two persons ever lived who thought the same about everything. Every man and every woman cannot successfully or even peacefully get along with every other man and woman, because each has his or her own personal peculiarities and these traits of mind frequently are at variance with the peculiarities and invisible forces of others and cause inharmony, sometimes disagreeable situations. Therefore it is always best to keep your relationships within the bounds of reason and good intentions.

There is a vocation in which each person can accomplish more than in any other. The time will come we fully believe when the science of astrology will be given greater consideration and eventually come into universal favor for the vocational benefit of the people and the resultant good of employer and employee.

GROWTH OF CHILDREN IN SEASONS

Healthy children gain weight more slowly during April, May and June than at any other time and gain it fastest in the fall and early winter. On the other hand increases in height comes fastest in the months when increase in weight is low. In the southern hemisphere the seasons of fast and slow growth are reversed.

COTTON

In MacDonald's Almanac for 1934 we printed a very interesting article in regards to "Cotton" and stated that in our 1935 Almanac we would continue this article about cotton and tell more about the diseases of cotton. We have now on hand a few copies left of the 1934 MacDonald's Almanac, price 20 cents a copy, address Atlas Printing Co., Binghamton, N. Y. We also have a few copies of other back years especially our 25th Anniversary Edition 1922, price 20 cents a copy each year.

THE DISEASES OF COTTON

Cotton is attacked by many fungus, bacterial and physiological diseases which cause annual losses of more than 2 million bales to the cotton crop of the United States. Twenty-eight specific diseases in various sections of the cotton belt have been reported by pathologists and mycologists during the last 20 years. The major diseases affecting cotton in the order of their importance are—root-rot, fusarium wilt, bacterial blight (in its various phases), root-knot, rust, anthracnose and verticellium.

ROOT-ROT

Root-rot, caused by fungus phymatotrichum omnivorum is the most important cotton disease in the southwestern states. The greatest damage occurs in Texas, especially in the heavy black-waxy soil. In this state the disease attacks cotton in 196 counties and, it is estimated, causes an annual loss of 12 to 15 per cent of the crop, total loss to the state is estimated at 100 million dollars annually. Root-rot is also responsible for serious losses in part of Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona and Southern California, and in northern Mexico. Observations over a period of years show that the root-rot fungus is native to this region, as it is often found on wild plants remote from cultivation and frequently attacks cotton, alfalfa and other susceptible plants when virgin land is cleared and planted to these crops. More than 600 cultivated and wild plant species are known to be susceptible to it.

By attacking and destroying the root system, the fungus causes sudden wilting and death of the plants. During warm periods following rainy weather in mid-summer and later the disease is very active, often killing out large areas of cotton. The root-rot spots in cotton fields usually persist in the same areas for several years and enlarge each year by a new belt of growth, where the disease often is more destructive than in the area previously occupied. In cotton fields the spots may disappear for a season or longer and then reappear as small centers of infection which begin to expand with renewed vigor.

Studies of the fungus have shown that three stages of development occur in its life history. (1) The vegetative or ozonium stage which spreads through the soil and attacks the roots during the growing season. (2) The sclerotial or resting stage, one of the principal means of persisting and over wintering in the soil and (3) the conidial stage, which frequently occurs above ground under special conditions of shade and moisture.

No satisfactory way of dealing with the root-rot disease has been found. In Texas, where the disease is particularly serious a two year and preferably a three year rotation of cotton with grain crops, combined with deep tillage immediately after the grains are harvested has reduced the disease. By treating primary centers and small spots of infection with 4 per cent ammonia water are given favorable indications of control. The toxic effect of ammonia on the root-rot fungus has been confirmed in many experiments, including the disinfection of diseased cotton roots by application of ammonia to the soil under field conditions. Other ammonium compounds have also reduced the infection in some tests, the repeated applications of barn yard manure were also effective in reducing the extent of the disease.

FUSARIUM WILT

Fusarium wilt, caused by the fungus fusarium vasinfectum is found in many types of soil from Virginia to New Mexico. The losses from this disease is said to reach several million dollars annually.

Wilt-infected plants appear dwarfed somewhat early in the season, the leaves become yellow between the veins and sections of stems and roots are black, giving rise to the common name "Black Rot." The fungus gains entrance into the roots of the plants from the soil, and its growth produces in the tissues toxins which finally accumulate in sufficient quantity to cause wilting and eventually death to the plant.

In attempting to control wilt, growers should bear in mind the following points: (1) If the disease is unusually prevalent, select wilt-resistant varieties of cotton, (2) combine this procedure with a system of crop rotation that is adaptable to the particular locality, (3) fertilize the plants liberally with high grade, balanced fertilizer and maintain adequate vegetable matter in the soil, either by adding manure or by plowing under cover crops such as rye, vetch, cowpeas or soybeans. Adequate plant food increases the resistance of the cotton plant to wilt and many other diseases.

BACTERIAL BLIGHT

Bacterial blight, also known as black arm, an angular leaf spot caused by organism occurs generally throughout the south and southwestern cotton districts. The principal injurious effects are stunting or death of seedlings, defoliation of the plant, the shedding of buds and rotting of bolls. Damage is often especially severe after wind storms and during cold, wet weather, and the disease is chiefly spread by wind blown rain. This disease is largely seed borne and may be effectively controlled by seed treatment. The use of dust disinfectants containing from 1.4 to 1.6 per cent ethyl-mercury chloride and other organic-mercury compounds have given satisfactory results. Seed treated with this dust at the rate of 4 ounces per bushel of seed has produced excellent strands of cotton.

ROOT KNOT

Root knot is caused by minute eelworms or nematodes, which bore into the roots, causing galls or abnormal swelling. This disease affects cotton and many other plants in almost every state in the cotton belt.

RUST

Rust or potash hunger is a physiological disorder of the cotton plant, prevalent on soil of low fertility, especially those deficient in vegetable matter and available potash. It occurs commonly in the coastal plain districts of the cotton belt. Plants affected with rust fail to make normal growth. Rust may be satisfactorily controlled by increasing the vegetable contents of the soil. This may be done by growing and plowing under green-manure crops, such as cowpeas, soybeans, and winter peas or with a liberal application of barnyard manure.

TOBACCO CURING

The curing of tobacco involves many complex changes in the composition of properties of the leaf which are not fully understood, but some of the more important principles of good curing are well established and every grower should acquaint himself as far as practicable with the nature of these fundamental facts. Experience is essential in this as in other features of tobacco culture, but it is also true that the better the grower understands the nature of the changes going on in the leaf during the curing and the most favorable conditions for bringing about these changes the easier it will be for him to adopt the right methods of securing the desired results.

One of the characteristics of the tobacco industry is the fact that there are a large number of distinct types of tobacco produced, and the methods of curing often differ radically as applied to these different types. There are two distinct methods of harvesting tobacco, but aside from this there are three essentially different ways of carrying out the curing—(1) air curing in which little or no artificial heat is applied, (2) flue curing in which the tobacco is entirely cured by artificial heat and in such a way as to prevent smoke from coming in contact with the leaf, (3) fire curing, in which the tobacco is largely cured by artificial heat applied by means of open fires made on the barn floor, thus allowing smoke to come in contact with the leaf. It will be necessary to consider separately each of these methods, together with the modification made in them in curing various types of tobacco. In all cases the first requirement for good curing is that the tobacco must be harvested when ripe.

In our next yearly edition of MacDonald's Almanac we will tell you more about these three different ways of curing tobacco.

WHY SMOKING RELIEVES FATIGUE AND HUNGER

Experiments indicate that smoking produces a definite, though temporary increase in the concentration of blood sugar. This in turn causes an increase in the rate of sugar combustion within the body. To these phenomena which are credited to the effects of nicotine on the suprarenal glands, much of the pleasure of smoking is believed to be due. Smoking it is suggested may relieve the slight distress caused by a low blood sugar level with which fatigue and irritability are sometimes associated. Smoking is furthermore believed to relieve the symptoms of hunger due to reduced blood sugar.

CORN FLAKES AND MILK HELP SLEEP

Everybody should have a light snack of corn flakes and milk before retiring to induce sound sleep is the morals of a scientific bed-time story. The facts were verified with special designed instruments which measure the restfulness of sleep. The somnokinograph measures the subject's movements during his sleep as an index of restlessness. The thermograph records changes in room temperature. The chronokinometer shows the duration of sleep movements. A kinometer measures the number of inches the mattress is moved by sleep movements during the night. Specific findings recorded were the following—adults sleep 6 per cent better if they eat some corn flakes and milk at bed time than they do when they don't eat again after the evening meal—children who go to sleep right after supper sleep 12 per cent better when they have corn flakes and milk for supper than when they have their usual meal and 26 per cent better than when they have a supper of food especially hard to digest.

The Proper Time To Plant And Harvest

The proper time for planting is when nature has the earth ready and man has prepared the soil for crops as indicated by the signs of the heavens and when this Almanac shows the Moon to be in the right phase and Zodial sign.

The planting signs and the days the Moon is in them, as well as the signs for cultivating and destroying noxious growths are given on the page headed "Positions of the Moon." while the name of each sign and its symbol is given on the first page in this Almanac.

The twelve zodial signs in practical use for agricultural purposes with a dependable guide are

Cancer	♋	Feminine watery signs
Scorpio	♏	Most fruitful of all
Pisces	♐	Best for all planting
Taurus	♉	Semi fruitful
Capricorn	♏	Earth and air signs
Libra	♎	Fair for planting
Sagittarius	♐	Tend to barrenness
Aquarius	♒	Good for cultivating
Aries	♈	Fair for destroying weeds etc.
Gemini	♊	Represents barren triplicity
Leo	♌	Leo most barren of all
Virgo	♍	Best for destroying weeds etc.

Cancer the mother sign representing country and home, is the most productive of all the signs. Scorpio ranks next, with Pisces third. These are the feminine, fruitful, watery signs.

Taurus, Capricorn and Libra are in the second group. They are semi fruitful and are fair for planting, but Taurus is very good for potatoes and root crops; Capricorn fair. Libra produces vigorous pulp growth and roots and a reasonable amount of grain. Libra is good for flowers.

Sagittarius, Aquarius and Aries the third group are masculine, fiery and air signs and tend to barrenness. Sagittarius is used for onions and seeding of hay. Aries also for onions. Aquarius for cultivating,

Gemini, Leo and Virgo, all considered non-productive and barren, are the best signs for grubbing and destroying noxious growths, especially between the 1st and 20th of August, September, February or June and in old or fourth quarter of Moon. Gemini is used for string beans and cucumbers.

Always do your harvesting near "Full Moon and when it is in the Airy signs Gemini, Libra or Aquarius. The fiery signs Aries, Leo and Sagittarius are next best. Harvest all root crops when Moon is Full and growing old.

Gather seed at Full Moon and when it is in signs Cancer, Taurus, Libra, Scorpio, Pisces or Capricorn.

Celery does fine when planted while increasing Moon is in Libra as it makes quick growth. Flowers also do excellent when planted in this sign.

Use new and increasing Moon for planting and Full and old Moon for harvesting and cultivating.

EASTERN STANDARD TIME, WASHINGTON, D.C.

Moon enters some signs in early morning hours, others late in the day or evening hours. Moon is in a sign on continuous hours of two or three successive days. When Moon is rising, the sign it is in, is rising too.

As a number of our patrons write us regarding the apparent discrepancy between the above positions of the moon and those given in other Almanacs, we will explain the matter as follows: For all PLANTING and ASTROLOGICAL purposes the Moon's true place is in the SIGNS OF THE ZODIAC. Other Almanacs give the Moon's place in the constellations, which is not right for Planting or other Astrological operations.

Planting Days For 1935

Vegetables, vines, plants and all things that produce their yield above the ground, such as peas, beans, tomatoes, lettuce, cabbage, etc., should be planted during the increase while the moon is in a fruitful sign such as Cancer, Scorpio or Pisces, especially during the second quarter or after the new moon is increasing. Do not plant on the day the moon changes quarters. The best days are:

Best planting dates for things that grow and mature above and below ground are as follows:

February 5-6-14-15-16	24-25	3rd—11:27 A. M.	18th—6:17 A. M.

September 3-4	13-16-17-20-21-29-30	27th—12:29 P. M.	12th—3:15 P. M.

The planting dates in the late winter and early spring are given for southern climates and hot house planting, also for buckwheat, timothy, seeding and winter grain.

When the Moon is near full and in the sign of Sagittarius that is a good time to set onion sets or plant seed.

When Moon is increasing or full and in Libra plant and transplant flowers, although the watery signs, Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces are also good.

March 4-5-12-13-14-20-21-22	June 3-4-5-10-11-12-13-14-21-22-23
April 9-10-11-16-17-18-19	July 9-10-11-19-20
May 6-7-8-13-14-15-16-17-18-25-26	August 8-15-16

The above flower dates may be used also for planting corn, wheat, barley, rye and buckwheat.

THE BEST DAYS FOR DESTROYING WEEDS IN 1935

The best days for destroying weeds, noxious growth and deadening trees are when the Moon is in the signs of Sagittarius, Aquarius and Virgo. Some good dates are:

April 14-15-21-22-26	July 5-6-12-13-17-18
May 11-12-19-20-23-24	August 1-2-9-10-13-14
June 8-9-15-16-19-20	September 5-6-10-11-24-25

IN ALL PLANTING

It is the moon's influence in the ecliptic, of the zodiac, that affects vegetation and it is the zodiacal influence and position of the moon which is taken into account by astrology.

Vegetable seeds planted in the barren or wrong signs of the moon produce plants which are deficient in the vital call-salts needed for health of the plant. By planting at the proper time you can save labor, have better yield and increased profits.

Harvest all root crops when the moon is growing old. They keep better and longer.

Page headed "Positions of the Moon" show the different signs the moon is in on any day of the month and should be referred to for all planting. Each calendar page in this Almanac gives the dates when the moon is new and in the first quarter (increasing), full and last quarter (decreasing).

This Almanac gives the proper place of the moon for all planting and other purposes.

SETTING EGGS

Best days for setting eggs so that the chicks will hatch out when the moon is on the increase and in the most productive and vigorous sign, Cancer, are:

Set Eggs

January 24-25-26 to hatch out February 14-15-16
February 19-20-21 to hatch out March 12-13-14
March 19-20-21 to hatch out April 9-10-11
April 15-16-17 to hatch out May 6-7-8
May 13-14-15 to hatch out June 3-4-5

General characteristics. Capricorn is an earthy, movable, serving, feminine, negative sign. Expression, intellect, ambition, ideality. Rules knees and affairs of a public nature.

The man born in this sign is physically strong, talkative, industrious, persevering, generally practical and economical, somewhat particular, never easily discouraged, although often disappointed, careful, cautious, makes the most of his opportunities, and usually triumphs over circumstances, succeeds in farming, building and real estate, excels in story-telling. He is proud, passionate, suspicious, independent, fond of good living, affectionate to his own, selfish regarding them, severe on those who meddle in his affairs, subject to sudden spells of anger; not above manual work when necessary, has capacity for organization, quick to grasp an opportunity and with ability to plan and execute. Usually careful in all money and business affairs, and a promise is sacredly regarded. Leads rather an anxious life, not always successful, but will have more friends than enemies.

The woman born in this sign has a fine memory, makes a good teacher, is faithful and devoted in domestic relations, very sincere, not demonstrative, but has a hidden, intense and ardent nature. She will make a good wife and mother, but does not like to be interfered with in her household affairs, and never meddles with the affairs of others; usually more discreet than the man and knows how to make both ends meet; dislike flattery, but appreciates praise when she feels she has righteously earned it. She has fine taste in dress and in the arrangement of the home, and a good entertainer; subject to gloomy spells of depression and fits of despondency without apparent cause; nervous from overwork. When understood she is genial and really liked; is good-hearted and does for others more than is expected of her. She will have but little real trouble, not much sickness and but few children.

Both men and women will find congenial friends among people born in all of the signs, but for more intimate companions and partnerships look to those born in Virgo, Taurus or Libra, and those born about the same time of year as themselves.

The birthstone is the Turquoise, favorite gems White Onyx, Moonstone, and the colors maroon, garnet, brown, silver, black.

ZODICAL TENDENCIES AQUARIUS PEOPLE

Born from Jan. 20 to Feb. 18, any year

General characteristics. Aquarius is a fixed, masculine, positive, serving, airy sign. Expresses will, power, purpose, rules ankles, pleasure, happiness, mentality.

The man born in this sign has a pleasant, friendly, generous, patient, determined nature; strong likes and dislikes; often very radical and advanced in his ideas; easily influenced by kindness; generally well liked but should be careful regarding friendships and guard against the baleful influence of fascinating types of the opposite sex. He is rather slow to anger, will not be driven, loves liberty, and is fond of occult research, art, music, literature and scientific studies. He is capricious, egotistical, inclined to worry over small affairs; will travel some. His mental quickness makes him very apt in any trade or profession; is adapted to the minor business pursuits and his possibilities in life are good if he improves his opportunities, as he can succeed in almost any line of work he may decide to do.

The woman born in this sign is faithful and devoted in home life and to her friends, but when her confidence is abused she is apt to become treacherous and cruel. She is intuitive, fond of society and likes to dress well; has common-sense views, quick understanding and usually wins the respect and admiration of others; has great power over men for good. She is very industrious, honest, and could succeed in any vocation she might apply herself to; is careful in money matters, careless about promises; has many friends and thinks much of them, also her relations; generally marries well; is a credit to her husband and usually is happy and contented with her family.

Those born under this sign have magical ability to heal and to control insane people. Congenial and business companions will be found in Aries, Leo, Capricorn and Sagittarius born, but marriage partner is best with those born in Aquarius or Libra.

Gems, Amethyst, Sapphire, Opal, Carbuncle, and the colors blue, Nile green and salmon pink.

ZODICAL TENDENCIES PISCES PEOPLE

Born from Feb. 19 to Mar. 20, any year

General characteristics. Pisces is a mutable, dual, fruitful, feminine, negative, serving, watery sign. Expresses emotion, flexibility, restlessness, rules feet and females in marriage.

The man born in this sign is faithful, timid, sympathetic, loving, honest, industrious, neat, particular, loves order and completeness, fond of mystery, romance, music and beautiful scenery; fears ridicule, is restless, inquisitive, apprehensive, self-contradictory, critical, positive in opinion and generally puts too much confidence in the words and promises of friends, when opposed becomes obstinate and disagreeable; generally successful in any mechanical trade or profession which requires fine finish and attention to detail; likes roaming but not new ventures; finds it difficult to change habits, customs and beliefs, but likes change of scene and travel; worries over trifles; is faithful and inclined to be exacting in domestic affairs; likes to make those dependent upon him happy and comfortable; would be more successful in partnership than in individual undertakings. Choice of occupation is wide and generally leads to moderate success in agriculture, labor, trade or profession.

The woman born in this sign is an excellent housekeeper and orderly, untiring in her efforts to accomplish something; inclined to the habit of self-censure and lacks self-reliance; allows her imagination to go to extremes at times, judging wrongly, and serious trouble is the inevitable result through her heart-breaking anxiety and foolish emotions. She is kind-hearted and loving, sensitive and exacting; faithful in domestic life, likes all that is good and refined; does not show her affections openly, is apparently stubborn at times, but easily coaxed, too generous and sympathetic. She is destined to have a large family and to live to an advanced age; generally marries more than once, is fond of talking, change of scenery and recreation; remembers clearly anything seen in which she takes an interest.

Gems. Bloodstone, Chrysolite, Pink Shell, Moonstone. Colors, emerald green, pink, white and black.

The most congenial companions are perhaps found in Capricorn and Virgo people. But for the woman of this birth sign, the Cancer born man would suit best, generally.

She destroys her best talents by hasty judgment, quick temper and jealousy; will frequently find herself mistaken.

Gems, Diamond, Amethyst. and the colors pink, white. Best conjugal mates, Leo and Sagittarius persons, but you would also mate well with your own sign and find pleasant companions in those born in it.

ZODICAL TENDENCIES

TAURUS PEOPLE

Born from April 20 to May 20, any year

General characteristics. Taurus is a fixed, earthy, intellectual, feminine, negative sign. Expresses will, power, purpose, rules the neck, throat, also travel.

The man born in this sign is firm, self-reliant, persistent, determined, secretive, reserved and courageous; when angered, furious, headstrong and unyielding. He is slow, patient, plodding, has great physical vitality, sincere, reliable, a faithful friend, steadfast and loyal when put to the test and real necessity arises, but abusive, even to friends when excited or angry. Has keen intuition in all that pertains to practical business, makes few blunders; has good executive ability, also makes a good agriculturist. He is more fortunate in money matters than in love affairs; prefers strangers to relatives; likes to have his own way and is generous in so doing, inclined to interfere in other people's affairs which causes him to be much disliked. He generally lives to old age, has but few real friends and many enemies; likes pleasure and high living, often occupies high positions and becomes wealthy.

The woman born in this sign has a warm-hearted, generous, clinging nature; always ready to bear the burdens and sorrows of those she loves; is an excellent housekeeper, and does not dislike manual labor, but is more fond of a life of ease and pleasure than one which calls for great activity. She will succeed well in lines that pertain to women's affairs. When angered, she becomes furious and says just what she means, regardless of consequences. She should guard against being led away, or misled through sympathetic feeling or flattery. She is careful and economical, has good opportunities for marriage, sometimes makes a mistake, gets a penurious husband and the domestic life is then unhappy. Divorce and second marriage are the consequence and happy result.

Most congenial partner will be found in Virgo and Capricorn born and not infrequently in Libra.

Gems, Moss-Agate, Emerald, and the colors red and yellow.

ZODICAL TENDENCIES GEMINI PEOPLE

Born from May 21 to June 20, any year

General characteristics. Gemini is a mutable, dual, barren, human, masculine, positive, intellectual, airy sign. Expressions emotion, flexibility, restlessness. Rules arms, hands, shoulders, collar bone and lungs, friends and enemies.

The man born in this sign is kind-hearted, sympathetic, affectionate, fond of home and children, loves change and diversity, has an active mind and can be relied upon in an emergency. Always likes to be busy, has a doubtful nature, hard to understand, but versatile, dextrous and skillful with the hands and has considerable mechanical ability, generally a good writer and capable of filling important positions, inclined to be too generous and superficial. He is fond of the opposite sex, fickle in his affections but loves only one woman at a time, likes education, travel, has many friends and some secret enemies through jealousy, is apt to pass judgment on others and without considering his own faults. Can easily adapt himself to any environment.

The woman born in this sign is a natural home-maker, likes everything that is artistic and beautiful, is affectionate, and thoughtful for the comfort of others; likes to be doing several things at a time owing to her impatient nature; is too generous for her own good; seeks frequent changes when employed, makes a good teacher and can do almost anything in clerical and millinery lines. She is very active and inclined to worry, easily influenced, somewhat jealous, and suspicious, generally attractive. Has powerful imagination, and quick to grasp the thoughts and schemes of others. Honesty with her is a virtue, liable to go to extremes, but can adapt herself to most any condition in life. Ill health is usually brought on by too much activity, excitement and over-work mentally and hysteria is one of the dangers. She should keep free from anxiety, worry and nervousness and get plenty of sleep.

You will find helpful and devoted friends in Virgo and Aries born, but your conjugal mate, if your restless nature finds one, will be best in Libra, Aquarius, or your own sign.

Gems, Beryl, Aquamarine and the colors red, white and blue.

General characteristics. Leo is a fixed, barren, masculine, positive, fiery sign. Expresses will power, purpose. Rules heart, blood, nerves, prosperity, losses and pleasure.

The man born in this sign is active, est, outspoken and very conscientious; quickly angered but quickly appeased; has many friends, is a natural leader and good story-teller. He is haughty, mischievous, impetuous, domineering, generally well built and pleasing in appearance, acts from the heart rather than the head; inclined to jump to conclusions. He usually is successful in business ventures; often attains popularity when holding positions of authority, unselfish in money matters, but saving, seldom refuses favors, but expects to have his own way in matters of opinion. He has considerable mechanical skill, never spares himself when interested in his work; is better adapted to mental activity and positions of power and authority than to manual labor; has good judgment, generally a long life and becomes more fortunate as he grows older.

The woman born in this sign is apt to be quiet, most intensely loving and sympathetic to her husband and children, with good will for all, a model housekeeper and fine cook. She is genuinely hospitable, but the friend or relative who injudiciously trespasses on her domains or maternal rights is no longer a welcome visitor; is well thought of by her neighbors, but will fight for her children on the slightest provocation. She is generally very attractive, courageous and virtuous, has a well-pleasing manner in speech and action, but is sometimes misunderstood and not appreciated. When faith or love is lacking there will be no harmony in the home, and nervous irritability and indifference will result. This sometimes causes separation, divorce, or unfaithfulness on the part of lover or husband. She lives to a good old age, has but few children and not much sickness. She will find her best mate in Aries and Leo born man. The man mates well with the woman born in Aries or Sagittarius.

Gems are Ruby and Diamond, and the colors, red and green.

She is excitable, timid, restless and needs respectability of one kind or another to satisfy her restless, mental and bodily activity. ZODICAL TENDENCIES LIBRA PEOPLE

Born from Sept. 23 to Oct. 22, any year

General characteristics. Libra is a cardinal, equinoctial, masculine, positive, generative, airy sign. Expresses intellect, ambition, ideality, balance. Rules loins, kidneys, wealth and prosperity. This sign gives marked mechanical ability over all the others.

The man born in this sign has respect for law, clever in judgment, shrewd, secretive, skeptical, but enterprising; restless, fond of luxuries and travel; acts on first impulse, is hopeful, sometimes very inconstant, mercenary and passionate, or just the opposite. His greatest fault is the tendency to be swayed by others, and to exaggerate from over-enthusiasm. He is either a natural-born speculator, merchant or professional man; usually very fortunate. When overtaken by disaster, he recovers quickly and goes to work again with redoubled vigor. Sometimes from his love of excitement, degenerates into a gambler. He usually is gifted with good foresight and economic caution, has many friends and is loved by his wife and family, though he causes them much worry and anxiety at times. He is considerate toward his enemies, is never discouraged, seldom angered, but when he is, leaves nothing unsaid; generous with advice, fond of music and harmony, would make a fine mechanic.

The woman born in this sign is quite different from the man, being retiring, gentle, anxious, kind, merciful and having strong intuition. She is most devoted to friends, family and relatives; is extremely sensitive to inharmonious surroundings and does not like to be dominated by those who demand reasons for everything, easily confused and confounded by the arguments of others and often seems more unreasonable and inconsistent than she really is; as long as she follows her own intuitions she will rarely be deceived. She is fond of amusements, social gaiety and very popular with the opposite sex. She has artistic tastes, makes an excellent teacher of music or mathematics and likes original and practical things. She dislikes hard, dirty, or routine work, generally marries while young and often more than once. Usually gets a good husband, lives to good age, and dies a wealthy widow.

ZODICAL TENDENCIES SCORPIO PEOPLE

Born from Oct. 23 to Nov. 21, any year

General characteristics. Scorpio is a fixed, fruitful, feminine, negative, reproductive, watery sign. Expresses will, power, purpose. Rules secrets, muscular system, males and marriage.

The man born in this sign is secretive, cunning, determined, critical, suspicious, the character is strong and decided, no half-way measures about him; likes luxuries, but economical and calculating, fond of travel, especially on water; often causes great distress among family and friends by his uncompromising and exacting traits. He has great skill with the hands; attends to his own business, but in matters of duty makes trouble for others. Is capable of much success through bold enterprise, persistent and stubborn in carrying out an undertaking. He is of a jealous nature which often causes him much trouble, is friendly for his own interests and is apt to meet with serious reverses. He has much mechanical ability and in politics and law is aggressive; possesses much energy in productive methods.

The woman born in this sign is attractive, intuitive, an excellent entertainer, but not always the most agreeable companion; difficult to understand, conceals her real feelings, is courteous and affable, a good housekeeper, but dislikes menial work. She is capable and efficient when she has clearly defined duties and wonderfully tenacious and persistent when she does take up any line of work and can adapt herself to almost anything. She rules through fear and her reprovals are of a cold, contemptuous manner, effectual but not lasting. She is proud, reserved, thoughtful, saving, fond of luxury, very passionate in love affairs, likes flattery, but should beware of it except from her husband; inclined to be hard-hearted and unfeeling, yet the nature is nervous and sympathetic, can be led but not driven. She makes a good mother, has several children and is industrious, generally respected, marries more than once, angers her husband at times, has more happiness in the latter years of life and generally dies well off.

These people have determined traits of character, either good or evil, which makes them very much liked or disliked, as the case may be.

ZODICAL TENDENCIES

SAGITTARIUS PEOPLE

Born from Nov. 22 to Dec. 22, any year

General characteristics. Sagittarius is a dual, human, masculine, positive, reproductive, fiery sign. Expresses emotion, flexibility, restlessness. Rules: hips, thighs and liver, hope and success in new enterprises. The seer and the prophet are born in this sign.

The man born in this sign is direct, outspoken, active, jovial, hopeful, generous, self-reliant, honest, honorable, ambitious, persevering, and not easily discouraged. Loves liberty, freedom, outdoor sports and nature. Dislikes masters and will not be driven; is blunt, impetuous, impulsive, jumps to conclusions; seldom becomes flurried under great excitement. He has good executive power and prompt decision, ability to command where it is necessary to think quickly; likes to do good and can generally be depended upon; seldom mistaken when he follows his own inspirations; dislikes secretiveness; likes travel. Has good mechanical ability and is a "Jack-of-all-trades." Often meets with family troubles and misfortune in business. His good fortune comes mostly through his opposite sex, also most of his troubles; he is seldom without money. His generosity and what he does for others is often paid with ingratitude. When there is no special need for activity, he often seems dull, uninteresting and even indolent. In old age, he reflects on the mistakes of youth.

The woman born in this sign is fond of domestic and social life, an orderly housekeeper, economical, but not penurious, always busy; does not meddle in the affairs of others. She is quick-tempered, never bears malice, seldom forgets an injury; always does one thing at a time and puts her whole strength into it. She is often too quick and decisive, sometimes misunderstood. She has but few children, is very loving and devoted in the home life and expects similar consideration from her husband. She hates anything underhanded, rarely makes mistakes when she follows her own inspirations and should not rely on advice of others. When deceived or ill-treated it is apt to embitter her future happiness.

As the lot of those born under this sign is to be misunderstood, it is best for them to have very few confidential friends; to think well and in silence before deciding on any important matter. They should be very careful in marrying, as serious troubles are apt to occur from uncongenial unions.

TABLES OF PLANETARY HOURS FOR DAILY USE AND THEIR MEANING

By using the fortunate hours for general activity and matters of importance this information may be found helpful.

Every planet rules certain departments of life and each hour of any day after sunrise is ruled over by one of the planets, and this hour will be generally good or adverse according to the nature of the planet and the description of matters or things ruled by it. In choosing the time to begin enterprises or events of importance, business and travel it is well to do so in a good hour, as planetary hours are used by Astrologers and others with good effect and have been recognized for ages.

If you are deciding on doing anything connected with important matters or occupation ruled by the particular planet of any day or have business or experience coming under the general description of a certain planet, first determine which planet it would come under, then take the day that planet rules the first hour after sunrise and choose an hour ruled by the planet for your purpose as this will double the advantage in your favor.

Study the description of the different planets so that you may first know the one which your special business comes under. If you have a paper or contract to make and sign, this would come under Mercury, the planet ruling Wednesday, as this would prove more favorable than a Mercury hour on some other day. If sun rises at 6:16 A. M. on Wednesday, the 1st, 8th, 15th and 24th hours after sunrise would be the good planetary hours of Mercury.

Mars rules Tuesday. If you wanted to do something that came under the description of this planet and the sun rises at 6:10 A. M. the first good hours would be from 6:10 to 7:10, the second good hour from the 8th hour after sunrise to the 9th, or an hour.

If your ruling planet is Jupiter—and the description of the business matter you wish to consummate comes under Jupiter which rules Thursday, it would be especially favorable to you in these good Jupiter hours of this day.

No one is absolutely ruled by any planet or sign, but some people respond to the influence of different ones. Very few people govern themselves and are greatly influenced by conditions, each in proportion to the amount of their knowledge and the use they make of it, or the lack of it.

Sun—Planet of light rules Sunday. Good hours ruled by it after sunrise on each day of any week.

MANY NEW GIANT STARS HAS BEEN FOUND

During the past year noted astronomers have claimed to discover about fifty Giant Stars, these super-giant stars are said to be fifty times hotter than the Sun, and that these famous and mysterious cosmic rays are storming the earth in large numbers and they are the most penetrating rays known and are constantly shooting through the bodies of every living thing.

These rays are bombarding the earth like shrapnels burst from cannons or some distant star, they flash to the earth like bursting shells.

The shrapnel bursts, however, are touched off fairly near the earth by the actual cosmic rays themselves which rarely are recorded on scientists instruments. What they record are the secondary rays set off by the cosmic invaders.

The cosmic rays speed to the earth with tremendous power, equivalent to ten thousand million volts of electricity. Traveling at this rate they occasionally strike an atom in the air above the earth smash its core and the fragments as many as half a million, go flying off in the same direction and when they hit the earth with power of one thousand million volts slow enough to be recorded in instruments.

HOW TO MAKE WATER FREEZE BY THE FIRESIDE

This feat can be done or performed only in winter, and at such times as snow may be had, and he that will show it must have in readiness a handful of salt; the time serving and the party being provided, let him call for a joint stool, a quart pot, a handful of snow, a little water and a short staff. First let him pour a little water upon the stool and upon it let him set the quart pot, and put the snow in the pot, the salt also (but privately), then let him hold the pot fast with his left hand, and therewith churn the snow and salt in the pot, as one would churn butter, and in half a quarter of an hour the pot will freeze so hard to the stool that you can scarcely with both hands pull it off from the stool.

During the past many of our old customers have written asking for a special Healing Salve that they thought would be more effective than our regular Healing Powder for serious cuts, burns and other sores of long standing, so we always advise them to use our special ointment (salve) instead of the healing powder. The results were always satisfactory and the price was one dollar for a one-ounce tube. Now we going to put this same ointment in a one-ounce tin box and sell it for 25 cents a box, 6 boxes for one dollar sent by mail, postage paid.

OUR CHURCHES ARE GROWING

Last year the churches and religious bodies in the United States showed a gain of nearly a million members. The Baptist had the largest increase among the Protestants. Like the prodigal son who returned to the house of his father the people of the United States are turning to the church after the wild years of profligate era. In religion, it seems, they find solace for their economic affliction. There will be no hard times in Heaven: nor will a golden key unlock any mansion in the sky.

Since the depression began one out of every seven banks failed, one out of every forty-six hospitals closed, one out of every twenty-five business and industrial concerns have become bankrupt but only one out of every 2500 churches have closed its doors. It is also remembered that church buildings are exempt from taxation and would still stand a place for voluntary worship if not a cent were contributed, also those which were mortgaged are pretty safe from foreclosure. It is a fact people turn in times of depression to the consolation of religion is nothing new in the world history.

We will give you, our estimated membership of some of the leading religious bodies in the United States:

YOUR STOMACH

As your stomach is the kitchen of your body, the centre of the nutritive processes, any derangement of its functions results in disorder of the entire organism, while judgment and decision is not to be trusted if the digestive system is out of order, or the liver clogged.

It is well known that a restless stomach usually accompanies a restless mind, while mixing digestion with worry and affairs caused stomach or gastric distress or nervous sensations and that dyspepsia, intestinal indigestion and constipation are factors favoring the development of pimples and blackheads.

Then your liver becomes slightly inactive or fails to take the poisons out of your blood, or fails to stimulate the large intestine, it will cause you to have a tired, lazy, lack of ambition feeling, while causes of headache are sluggish liver, indigestion, constipation, gas pressure from stomach and intestines, but gas pressure symptoms are often due to the liver.

As your liver is considered the most important working organ in your body from the standpoint of health, if any one or more of its jobs are not being properly done, the other parts of the body, heart, lungs, stomach, intestines, kidneys, may all be affected. In the large intestine the waste products of the food eaten accumulate and if there is any feeling of discomfort or distressing symptoms in this region of the abdomen, disturbances in other parts of the body may occur and sometimes cause an accumulation of gas.

As the organs in the chest and abdomen is really where you live, you should therefore, have the very best of medicine when there is need for it.

THE PHILOSOPHIES OF HEALTH

Food in its relation to health, strength and well being is what everyone, more or less, is greatly interested in daily, as food is important and the quality and quantity also is important. Perhaps there is nothing which makes people more liable to ailments, infections or stomach and intestinal disturbances more quickly than poor foods and irregular eating especially if lacking in certain qualities for a length of time before the ill effects are noticed.

The resistant or protective foods are milk, fruit and vegetables, these contain calcium or lime while meat, eggs, fats, sweets, cereals, bread, potatoes, poultry and fish make up about a perfect diet for the average individual as these provide enough minerals, vitamins, roughage and non-acid foods to maintain health, strength and happiness from the philosophy of both mental and physical standpoint. Other factors such as sleep, rest, exercise, being out of doors and regular intestinal habits, favor good health, long life and tend to prevent colds and other disturbances.

Fear, worry and other emotional upsets cause distress, depressed feelings, nervous exhaustion and often bring on symptoms that seem to be caused by some ailment of the bodily organs. An upset mind may so react as to cause an upset stomach, nervous conditions and heart palpitation as the mind influences the body for health or ill-health, while the body or condition of the vital organs influence the mind for good or bad mental health.

Stomach troubles may cause mental tiredness, high blood pressure, rapid heart beating and other disorders especially in high strung individuals due to mental or emotional strain, while people who are sensitive to certain foods (food allergy) may have a wide variety of stomach and intestinal symptoms which may produce pain in the center or on either side of the abdomen and which may resemble many serious conditions. Others which cause gall stones and appendicitis are stomach or intestinal trouble, constipation, biliousness, dizziness, headache, and various other symptoms.

During middle and later life the digestive organs and the entire human system from the circulation of the blood to the digestive processes—stomach and intestines is liable to disorder and affecting more or less the kidneys, heart, blood pressure and nervous system. Then the stomach is upset, the bowels somewhat inactive and one is not feeling right—then is the time the good tonic and corrective is most efficient.

During this year people are very apt to have disturbances of the stomach, intestines and nervous system generally.

REST BEFORE EATING IN HOT WEATHER

During the hot summer season the heat tires and exhausts people temporarily, especially from physical effort, and when eating before rest, digestion does not take place for some time. This favors the formation of gas with pain in the abdomen from gas pressure and sometimes diarrhoea. Many people either eat too much, not enough or at the wrong time during the hot months of summer.

Keeping the intestines (bowels) active during the hot summer season is helpful in enabling people to withstand the heat better and to feel more comfortable. MacDonald's special Ac-so Tablets are intended to aid nature to actively accomplish this for you.

CURING SEASICKNESS OF ELECTRIC NECK HEATERS

Electric neck heaters are for people who get seasick or air sick. The idea is to heat by electric current the small bulb of nervous tissue called the medulla oblongata, inside the back of the neck just at the junction between the spinal cord and the brain.

Few years ago it occurred to investigators that many things that cause nausea, such as tickling of the throat, shocks to the internal organs or disturbance of the body's balancing mechanism in the inner ear, really involve nerve paths through this medulla oblongata. It is reported too, that physicians sometimes treat disorders of this kind by rapid massage of the back of the neck presumably to warm this same medulla. The idea then was tested on actual sick people, their medullas being heated gently by electric currents of kind used in the new medical process called "Diathermy."

Results were remarkably successful, seasickness, carsickness, airsickness and all similar conditions were relieved at once. Observations by X-Rays showed that the heating of the medulla immediately stopped the violent spasms of the diaphragm and abdominal muscles which make seasickness so distressing.

Even the kind of sick headaches called migraine, often regarded as incurable was improved. It is believed that electric heat for the medulla may prove to be an important new way to calm or regulate the entire nervous system.

HOW TO TELL IF A PERSON IS IN LOVE

As a farrier's, or elsewhere, procure a piece of horn shaving as thin as paper, an inch long by three-fifths of an inch wide, and cut it into the shape of a Cupid, as generally represented, i. e., of a plump child. Make a similar figure out of parchment paper, or silk. Put the figure of horn in a person's hand, and the heat will make it curl up and move about, while the other will not move.

FORTUNE-TELLING BY THE CRYSTAL

Fortune-telling by means of the Magic Crystal is far more difficult than by other methods, so much depends on the Seer; and we are told that "the same symbol will have different meanings with different seers, owing to the difference of individual temperament." No definite rules can be laid down as to interpretation, but it is advisable that the seer or seeress should be his or her own interpreter.

The Crystal is a clear piece of quartz or beryl, sometimes egg-shaped, sometimes round. The observer should sit back to the light, holding the crystal in the palm of the hand; or it can be placed on a table with a stand under it, and a back screen of black velvet or dark stuff. Sidelights and reflections are undesirable. It is absolutely necessary to preserve perfect silence while consulting the crystal; and success depends largely on the personality of the seer, who need not be by any means an educated person. Indeed, it is a strange yet admitted fact that the best fortune-tellers are not highly educated persons, but are frequently to be found among the poorer—one might almost say nomadic—class. Shrewdness is a valuable quality; quickness of perception another. It seems as if fortune-telling is a natural talent, like other gifts of the mind, when the crystal begins to work, it becomes milky; then cloudy, but in colors; eventually black, which in its turn clears away, showing plainly the picture, scene or vision; and when this point has arrived, the seer must exercise great self-control, as excitement of joy or fear will interrupt the continuance of the vision and the condition of mind necessary to the process of development.

A Foot signifies a journey.

A Mouth denotes speech, revelation.

An Ear, news, information.

The Sun, shining brightly, denotes prosperity and honor.

The Moon, when crescent, denotes success, increase, and improvement.

The Sun, Eclipsed, shows the death or ruin of a man; the Moon, similarly afflicted, denotes equal danger to a woman. These are natural interpretations.

A Ship is a symbol of intercourse, of trading, of voyaging. If in full sail it shows that the communication with the spiritual world is increasing, that news from far-off lands will come to hand, that trade will increase, that a voyage will be taken. If there is writing on the sails, it will point to other possibilities.

THE WALKING GENT

Request a lady to supply you with a black hair, one end of the hair fix to a pin, to the other end a small piece of shoemaker's wax, fix the pin to the bottom of your vest; the small piece of wax stick to your lowermost vest button. Thus prepared, you request the loan of a cent. While your friend is taking the cent from his purse, get the piece of wax between your finger and thumb; there is no occasion to look for it—you know where it is stuck on the bottom of your vest, and you can easily feel it and take it off. After receiving the cent, examine it as if to ascertain if it be a good one; stick on the wax and throw the penny on the table; move your body from the table, and of course the cent will follow, as the hair pulls it along. Hold a glass of wine at the edge of the table, invite the cent to walk into the glass, out again, etc. All this can be easily done with a little practice, and is a most amusing experiment.

FIRE UNDER WATER

Put thirty grains of phosphorus into a bottle which contains three or four ounces of water. Place the vessel over a lamp and give it a boiling heat. Balls of fire will soon be seen to issue from the water after the manner of an artificial firework, attended with the most beautiful coruscations.

TO WASH THE HANDS IN MOLTEN LEAD

Take one ounce of quicksilver, two ounces of good boleammoniac, half an ounce of camphor, and two ounces of aquavita; mix them together and put them into a brazen mortar, beating them with a pestle. Rub the hands all over with this ointment, and they may be put into melted lead with impunity: the metal being poured upon them will neither burn nor scald.

TO LET MAIDENS OR WIDOWS DREAM OF THE MAN THEY ARE TO MARRY

Take a small twig of a maple tree, and with a silk ribbon, tie it to your stockings, and lay the same under the pillow upon which their head is to rest, and upon going to bed take a few drops of blood of a robin, and rub it upon the temples, while saying the following words: Kyrios clementissime, qui Abraham seruo tuo dedisti uxorem Saram et filio ejus obedientis mo per admirabile signum indicasti Rebeccam uxorem; indica mihi ancillae tuae, quem sim nuptura virum per ministerium tuprum, spirtum Bahdeth, As saibi, Abumlith.

Upon awakening, try to recall to memory all things you have seen in your dreams and should no man have appeared in it, you must repeat the same formula upon the three succeeding Friday nights, and should he not during that time have appeared in your dreams, you may rest assured that you will never marry. Widows may practice this the same as maidens; the only difference being that the widow must have her pillow at the foot end of the bed.

"But why the bulldog?"

"To eat the steak, suh," replied the Colonel.

SITTIN' BULL UP TO DATE

A full-blooded Indian in Arizona recently needed some cash, so he went to the bank for a loan. "How much money do you need?" asked the banker.

"Me want $200" answered the Indian "For how long?"

"Maybe two weeks; maybe two months."

"What security have you?"

"Me got two hundred horses."

That seemed to satisfy the banker so the loan was made. Shortly afterward the Indian came into the bank with $2,200 in cash, paid off his note and started out with the balance.

"Wait a minute," cried the banker. "Why don't you let us take care of that money for you?"

The Indian looked the banker straight in the eyes and solemnly asked: "How many horses you got?"

Brown was making a visit to a girl who lived in the country. As they were walking through the field, they noticed a cow and calf rubbing noses in bovine love. He spoke up:

"The sight of that, makes me want to do the same thing."

"Go ahead," she replied, "it's father's cow."

Mrs. Smith, a regular visitor in the doctor's consulting room, started on the long story of her troubles. The doctor endured it patiently and gave her another bottle. At last she started out, and the doctor was congratulating himself, when she stopped and exclaimed:

"Why, doctor, you didn't look to see if my tongue was coated?"

"I know it isn't," wearily replied the medical man. "You don't find grass on a race track."

"Some men have no hearts," said the tramp. "I've been a-telling that fellow I am so dead broke that I have to sleep outdoors."

"Didn't that fetch him?" asked the other.

"Naw. He told me he was a-doin' the same thing, and had to pay the doctor for tellin' him to do it."

Two nursemaids were wheeling their infant charges in the park when one asked the other:

"Are you going to the dance tomorrow afternoon?"

"I'm afraid not."

"What!" exclaimed the other. "And you so fond of dancing!"

"I'd love to go," explained the conscientious maid, "but, to tell the truth, I'm afraid to leave the baby with its mother."

"Pay full fare for Johnny; why, I never did that before. The idea!"

"Yes, but ma, I got on long pants now. You gotta pay full fare for me, ain't she, mister?"

"She certainly must pay full fare."

"The idea! Must I pay full fare for him just because he has on long pants?"

"That's the idea!"

"Well, then, smarty, here's a full fare ticket for Johnny and I'll ride on the half-fare ticket."

An old colored woman sitting opposite said that by rights she hadn't ought to pay any fare at all.

POULTRY AND EGGS

The poultry industry is considered by many persons to be of minor importance in American agriculture, although this industry is carried on so extensively and the value of its products is so great, most of the individual units of production are so small that this industry is poorly organized and in many flocks scant attention is paid to proper methods of production. A small flock of chickens can be kept in almost any manner—well or poorly housed, fed almost any kind or amount of feed and compelled to forage for the rest, and it will still produce some meat and eggs for home use and possibly some for sale.

About 50 per cent of the poultry flocks contain less than 50 chickens per flock. About 77 per cent of the farms reporting chickens show less than 100 per flock. This indicates the large use of poultry and eggs as food on the farm, the market value of surplus meat and eggs from these flocks is a very small item of the farm cash income.

In recent years much attention has been given to selecting and breeding for higher egg production, not only in large commercial poultry flocks but also in the small farm and back yard flocks, culling out the poor layers from the laying flocks by selection based on their appearance and condition during the summer. Breeding for increased egg production requires much careful detailed and persistent work to show results. The health of both male and female as well as bred type must be maintained. Birds that lay well towards the close of their first laying year are nearly always the best layers. The use of electric lights in the poultry house to improve fall and winter egg production has become common on poultry farms. Artificial lighting is also used to some extent for small flocks in back yards and on general farms.

The use of strict sanitary measures in rearing poultry and in keeping laying and breeding stocks has increased greatly in recent years.

A typical sanitary program of poultry raising involves the following points:

- (1) Producing chicks from breeding stock free from Bullorum disease and hatching them in clean incubators
- (2) Keeping brooders and laying houses clean by scrubbing the building and equipment with water that contains lye and then thoroughly disinfecting them.
- (3) Using clean ground, that is, ground that has been entirely free from chickens and chicken droppings for one year.
- (4) Keeping litter clean by frequently changing it in the laying house, and renewing it at least once a week in the brooder house.
- (5) Keeping food and water clean by using feed hoppers that prevent waste and keep out the dirt, and by placing mash hoppers and water pans on raised wire screens. Improved management likewise has contributed materially to improvement in the quality of eggs and an increased production of eggs.

Hens' eggs have high nutritive value, are easy to cook, and are in general, one of the most popular foods. They are greatly valued for their high protein contents, for their varied mineral elements, and for the several vitamins that they contain. The white of an egg is made up largely of protein, the yolk is rich in vitamins A, B, D and G and considerable quantities of calcium, iron, phosphorus are present. Practically all the fat in eggs is contained in the yolk, but both yolk and the white contain proteins and minerals. Besides supplying these desirable food elements, eggs properly cooked are one of the most easily digested of foods.

Poultry meat has long been a favorite food although not used in the diet so frequently as eggs. Chickens make up the main source of poultry meat throughout the year except at Thanksgiving and Christmas when turkeys are highly popular. A market increase in winter-broiler raising in recent years has made available a good supply of freshly killed broilers at all seasons of the year. Poultry flesh, though differing but little in nutritive value from other lean meats is greatly relished and is an efficient protein food as well as a good source of iron and phosphorus. Chickens predominate in the poultry industry of the United States. Turkeys, ducks and geese are also commercially important.

TURKEY RAISING

Although most turkeys are still raised in small flocks on general farms, there are many farms, especially in the northwest where 1000 or more turkeys are raised each year. Farmers can advantageously raise fair size flocks of turkeys by following careful sanitary practices in handling the stock, providing clean yards and range, brooding the poults artificially and keep the young turkeys away from all chickens. Excellent results may be obtained by keeping the turkey poults in semiconfinement for the first 8 to 12 weeks. Wire floor should be used in houses used for growing turkeys. This sanitary feature has substantially reduced mortality. After this the young turkeys should be put on clean free range where they can pick up part of their food. The best growth is obtained when the growing turkeys are fed some growing mash even if they have a good range.

Turkey production for the country as a whole showed a decline for several years after the world war—reaching a low point in 1927. With the gradual adoption of improved methods and with profitable returns to growers, numbers have tended to increase since that time and the turkey crop for 1935 expects to be the largest on record, over 20 million turkeys to be raised. Although turkeys formerly sold for considerably more per pound than chickens, the improvement in methods of producing turkeys has lowered the cost and the spread in price between turkeys and chickens has decreased greatly in recent years.

DUCK RAISING

There is little interest in duck raising on general farms and the number raised there is apparently decreasing, but on the other hand, interest in raising ducks on a large scale for commercial purposes is growing. This enterprise has been most extensively developed on Long Island in New York State. There are also large duck farms in other regions.

On such commercial farms ducks are forced for rapid growth and will weigh about 5 or 6 lbs. at 10 weeks of age, when they are ready for market. Certain breeds of ducks lay as well as chickens, if bred for egg production, but since there is very little demand for duck eggs in United States there is but little interest in keeping ducks for egg production.

GOOSE RAISING

Goose raising on general farms in this country is about the same state of development as duck raising, however there are no large commercial goose farms as geese are raised entirely in small flocks on general farms. The prices received for market geese is somewhat lower than duck prices, considerably below price for hens, and very much than turkey prices. This condition appears to account for the decreasing interest in goose raising.

MILK "GOATS"

The milk-goat industry in the United States has not yet developed to any important extent, but the production of milk goats has for a great many years been an important feature of the livestock industry in many European countries. In this country the goat has always been an animal of more or less ridicule, as the majority of the people do not realize the possibilities of certain breeds or types that have been bred for many years along definite lines. In Europe the milk goat is largely used by families unable to keep a cow and great benefit is derived from having fresh milk at hand at a low cost. In these countries the goat is often spoken of as the "Poor Man's Cow." The milk goat industry is only in its infancy in America. This type of goat is adapted to our country and this industry should become of greater importance every year as the goat will supply sufficient milk for the average family and can be kept where it would be impossible to keep a cow.

In England and many other parts of Europe people who leave the cities during the summer months either for their country homes or travel often take a milk goat with them, so that the infant or other members of the family may have a good supply of milk of uniform quality. The demand now for good goats appears to be far greater than the supply. The fact that goats are rarely affected with tuberculosis is another point in their favor.

About the first question that most people ask concerning goats is, how much milk will one yield? This is a very important consideration as the value of a doe is estimated largely by her milk production. Some does will produce about 3 pints a day while others of purebred will produce 2 and 3 quarts a day. The price to be obtained for goat's milk depends upon a number of conditions. If the milk is to be sold for ordinary use the price will be much lower than if a special market has been developed and the price will range from 10 to 50 cents a quart. The highest price has been obtained when the milk has been supplied for the use of infants and invalids. Many doctors today prescribe goat's milk diet for their patients who have stomach troubles and for infants and under-nourished children. Goat's milk is said to digest in about 45 minutes.

Goat's milk is nearly always pure white in color. The small size fat globules is one of its chief characteristics. The cream rises very slowly and never so thoroughly as in the case of cow's milk. It is said that goat's milk will keep sweet longer than cow's milk. If goat's milk is properly produced and handled it should have no disagreeable odor or flavor. The principal sources of bad odor or flavor in milk are particles of dirt or hair that fall into it when milking, keeping the does in unclean quarters and milking in a barn.

Goat's milk can be utilized for the same purposes as cow's milk, although for some it is not so well suited. For general use such as drinking, cooking and in tea and coffee the milk has proved to be very satisfactory. Goat's milk is less satisfactory than cow's milk for making butter, but large quantities of goat's milk cheese are manufactured, especially in Europe. Goat's milk is highly recommended as a milk for infants and invalids.

Good butter can be made from goat's milk, but ordinarily very little is produced. The cream rises very slowly and only a portion of it reaches the top. Unless artificially colored the butter is very white and resembles lard in appearance. It can be used for table or cooking. It does not pay to make butter from goat's milk as cow's butter can be purchased more cheaply.

GOAT MEAT AND GOAT SKINS

There has always been a rather general prejudice in this country against the use of goat meat as food, however, in some sections a great many goats of milk type, especially kids are annually consumed. In some parts of the south kids are considered as a delicacy and are in demand. They are sold for slaughter when from 8 to 12 weeks old. The flesh of young goats or kids is palatable and has a flavor suggesting lamb. If properly cooked the meat from a mature milk goat is also good eating, provided the animal has been properly fed and is in good condition.

The price of goats sold on the market for slaughter are always considerably less than those received for sheep. Goats do not fatten and carry flesh like sheep. It is said that thousands of goats both young and old are slaughtered yearly and their meat sold as mutton and lamb.

United States imports annually over 40 million goat skins and there could be a ready market for all skins that could be produced in this country. The skins from the short haired goat, such as the common type of American goats are used in the manufacture of shoes, gloves, book binding and pocket books. The price of goat skins depend on the size and condition of the skin.

There are several types and breeds of goats in the world and only a few of them have been imported into this country. Many immigrants have brought young goats in baskets with them. Some of the breeds now in this country are "Toggenburg," "Nubian," "Maltese," "Schwartzenberg," "Guggisberger" and the so-called common or American goat.

If the readers of this, MacDonald's Farmers Almanac are interested in goats—raising, breeding, diseases, feeding, etc., we will continue this article in our 1936 Almanac. Just write us a letter or card requesting more information about goats in our next Almanac and if we have enough requests from our readers we will continue this article. SWORDFISH LIVER OIL IS RICH IN VITAMINS

Technologists of the Bureau of Fisheries of Washington, D. C. have reported that there is a remarkably high vitamin potency in the oil found in the liver of swordfish. It has been found that oil taken from the liver of swordfish contains 75 to 100 times as much vitamin "D" as the United States Pharmacopoeia standard fish oil and from 15 to 25 times as much vitamin "A" as this same standard. Study revealed that between 45,000 to 75,000 international vitamin "D" units are contained in swordfish liver oil. The oil is not as rich in vitamin "A" contents as halibut liver oil.

MAKING AND FEEDING OF SILAGE

Silage is feed that has been cut and packed in an air tight container or pit, with moisture enough to allow a partial fermentation, which preserves it in a slightly sour condition. Dairymen and feeders of cattle have long appreciated the value for milk and meat production of the succulent pasture grasses which are so abundant in the spring and summer. To obtain succulence in the winter or when pasture is not available forage crops are made into silage.

Silage has certain laxative properties which keep the digestive organs of animals in good condition. Livestock receiving some form of succulent feed have keener appetites, softer and more pliable skins and a more thrifty, more healthy appearance than those fed exclusively on dry rations.

When a crop is placed in the silo the temperature of the material rises in a few days to about blood heat and then gradually diminishes. The sugars are converted to acids, mainly lactic and acetic which give the silage a sour taste and help to preserve it by inhibiting the growth of certain organisms. Normal corn silage contains about 1 per cent of acid.

Losses of food nutrients are due to two causes—contact with air and fermentation. The air may be excluded from the silo by proper packing of the material, by air-tight construction and by careful attention to sealing cracks around the doors.

By use of proper methods almost any green crop can be made into silage successfully. Considerable care must be taken however to expel the air from such hollow stemmed plants as the small cereal-grains by cutting fine and packing firmly.

Corn is the common silage crop wherever it can be grown successfully. Silage made from corn has a good flavor and is very palatable and will keep in good condition for years. It contains nearly as high a percentage of digestible nutrients as the corn from which it was made. When it is properly siloed, the losses of digestible nutrients from fermentation are smaller than in most other crops.

Throughout a considerable portion of the United States more food material can be obtained from an acre of corn as silage than from an acre of any other crop. Corn is more easily harvested and put into the silo than crops like rye, clover, cowpeas or alfalfa and when cut for silage the maximum quantity of nutrients is preserved. When corn is cut for silage the land is cleared and left or is husked from the standing stalk.

Silage is not only feed to the dairy cattle but to calves, bulls, dry cows, beef cattle, sheep and lambs, also to horses and mules.

VANILLA BEAN

Vanilla extract is prepared from vanilla beans or more properly the seed pods of a climbing perennial plant belonging to the orchid family vanilla planifolia. This pod gets its name "Vanilla" from the Spanish vanai meaning pod and "illa" little. The plant is native to Mexico, South America and West Indies. It has been transplanted to other tropical countries and cultivated successfully. When gathered the beans are yellowish green in color and possess no odor. Flavor and aroma are developed by curing a process of fermentation or sweating, which requires several months.

LADIES PREFER BLONDE MEN

Among 31,000 persons examined the women were found to be darker than men, four out of ten women had brunette hair against 3 out of every ten men. Of the men 14 per cent were golden blondes of the women only 10 per cent. Since nature is considered solely with the perpetuation of species, the fact that she continues to supply blonde gentlemen in large numbers is proof the ladies prefer blonde men.

THE CITY HOME GARDEN

The problems that confront the city gardener are vastly greater than those of the farmer, who is free to select the choicest plot of ground upon his farm for his vegetable garden. The city lot or back yard garden as a rule offers little choice of soil or location. The available land is often shaded a part of the day and the soil frequently consists of hard clay or is covered to a depth of several inches with cinders, broken stone or other materials unfit for growing plants. The city gardener is usually handicapped by lack of practical experience and for the want of suitable tools with which to do the work. Hand methods must be employed for the most part and numerous local difficulties must be overcome. It is possible, however, to grow certain kinds of vegetables under very adverse conditions and the results obtained by many city gardeners are truly remarkable.

The city back-yard or vacant-lot garden provides a supply of vegetables at home without transportation or handling costs. Vegetables from the home garden are fresher and more palatable than those brought from a distance. Many people who work in offices, stores and factories have time morning and evening that may be devoted to the cultivation of a garden, thus utilizing spare time and idle land for food production. The home vegetable garden should be a family interest, and all members of the family who are able to do so should take part in its cultivation. There is no better form of out-door exercise than moderate working in the home garden and a few lines of recreational work will give greater returns for the time employed.

There are three general types of city vegetable gardens: Backyard gardens, vacant lot gardens and community gardens. In locating a home garden the back yard or the grounds surrounding the dwelling should be given first consideration, because of the convenience both in working the garden and in gathering the products as wanted for use. If the grounds around the dwelling are too small or too densely shaded, or if the soil is of such character that vegetables cannot be grown successfully upon it, the use of a vacant lot in the neighborhood is recommended. Community gardens located in outskirts of the city where a tract of land can be secured are adapted for the use of families living in apartment houses, also for shopworkers and persons employed by large manufacturing concerns. There is a distinct advantage in having the garden located near the home, as much of the work of tending it may be done during spare moments and the garden can be protected from theft or from injury by stray animals.

Do not locate the garden on land upon which the sun does not shine for at least five hours each bright day. Do not locate the garden on soil where the rocks are but a few inches below the surface and where there is insufficient moisture. Do not attempt to grow a garden where the fill has been made with cinders or broken bricks or where the original soil has been buried with materials upon which weeds will not grow. If weeds grow rank and vigorous it is a sure sign that the soil is good. Do not plant a garden under or near large trees that will steal all the moisture and plant food from the crops. The maple and oak are the kinds of trees that are most injurious to crops planted near them. Do not plant a garden on low lands near rivers where the crops are reasonably sure to be lost from overflow.

Where there is any choice in the selection of a garden location the following points should be considered: The land should be level or gently sloping towards the south or southeast. The drainage should be good, but the land should not be so steep as to wash during rains. The location should be higher than adjoining lands in order to safeguard against frost as frost does most damage on the lower levels. The ideal soil is dark sandy loam with a rather retentive subsoil. The soil should be deep and should break up loose and mellow when plowed or spaded. Plenty of organic matter or rotted manure should be present in the soil in order to give the crops through periods of drought.

The ideal garden spot is seldom found, but it is often possible to choose a location that embodies a number of more important conditions and then supply others. The difficulties of the first season are greater than those of subsequent years, and a garden plot if properly handled will improve with each season's cultivation. It is essential that the garden be so arranged that the tall-growing crops will not shade the smaller ones.

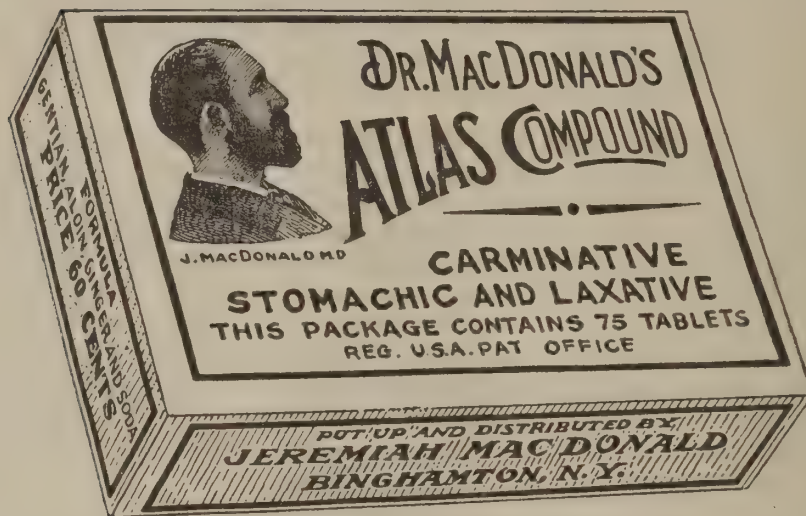

In our MacDonald's Almanac for 1936 we will continue this special article on home gardens with "Preparation of the Soil"—"Use of Ashes on Garden Soil"—Liming Garden Soil—Use of Manure on Garden Lands—Commercial Fertilizer—Tools, Seeds, starting early plants and other interesting subjects. Why don't you send us 20 cents "Now" in coin or postage stamps for a copy of this Almanac for 1936 that will be ready about November 1, 1935. We will mail you a copy as soon as printed. WHAT ATLAS COMPOUND IS MADE OF.

ATLAS COMPOUND is a Wonderful Medicine. It is a Compound, in right proportions of well known drugs and herewith publish the Formula of ingredients and give the "Key" as published in the UNITED STATES DISPENSARY of each article used, as follows:—Extract IPECAC ROOT, From Brazil. It is a Diaphoretic and Expectorant. A Stimulant to the Stomach exciting the appetite and facilitating digestion. It loosens up slimy, catarrhal matter and in large doses causes nausea and vomiting. It is free from narcotic properties and is not a habit forming drug, especially fitted for use when no other effect than emptying the stomach is desired. It has been employed by the natives of Brazil for Stomach Troubles and has been known there since 1672. Until very lately it has always been employed as a Secret Remedy with great success in Stomach and Bowel troubles such as Indigestion, Dysentery, Diarrhoeas, etc. It has a general Stimulant effect upon the whole digestive tract. It is also used in Croup, Bronchitis and Diseases of the Gastro-Intestinal Mucus Membranes.

EXTRACT of GENTIAN ROOT. From the High Alps of Switzerland and other elevated regions of Europe. Gentian possesses in a high degree Tonic Powers. It excites the appetite and invigorates digestion. It has been known from the remotest antiquity. Many of the preparation handed down by the Greeks and Arabians contained it in their ingredients. It is used in all cases of Debility of the Digestive Organs where a General Tonic is required, such as Dyspepsia, Gout, Amenorrhoea, Hysteria, Scrofula, etc., and there is scarcely a Complaint (of Digestive Trouble) in which it can not be advantageously given under all circumstances.

ALOIN. Socotrine Aloes is produced in the Island of Socotra. This is the Original Aloes having been produced there as early as the time of Alexander the Great, over 300 years before Christ. It is now produced in Barbados, Bombay, Muscat and Zanzibar, Africa. In Arabia it is known as Jayef Gesheeshah, or Sacred Medicine. Aloin is the pure active principle of Aloes. Aloes was known to ancients as having a peculiar affinity for the large intestines and pelvic organs, not as a cathartic, but as a muscular exhalent, or evacuant. It Quickens the Circulation and produces a General Warmth to the system. A peculiarity of Aloes is that an increase, or over dose is not attended with a corresponding increase of effect. Its tendency to irritate the bowels and rectum is modified, or over come by combining it with an Alkali (such as Bi-Carbonate of Soda). It is an Excellent Remedy for Costiveness (Constipation) attended with Torpor of the Digestive Organs. It is supposed to stimulate the Hepatic Secretions and acts very happily in Jaundice even after Calomel has failed. It is useful in Ascarides (Round Stomach Worms) and Hemorrhoids. In Amenorrhoea (Suppression of the Menses) it is perhaps more frequently employed than any other remedy and enters into almost all preparations resorted to in that complaint.

SODA. Pure Bi-Carbonate of Soda is a cooling, mild alkali used medicinally to Neutralize the acids of the system. It is useful in Croup and to promote the Expulsion of Mucus Membranes and in Pneumonia (Catarrhal Troubles) it acts on the principle of removing the excess fibrin from the blood in inflammations.

also lessens the sugar in the urine of Diabetic patients and modifies the action of acids in the Digestive Organs.

GINGER. This is a native plant of Hindustan and East India, also cultivated in the West Indies. The medical virtues exist in the roots. It is Agreeably Aromatic and Penetrating, Spicy and Pungent. It is a Greatful Stimulant and Carminative especially useful in Dyspepsia, Flatulent Colic and a feeble state of the alimentary canal attendant upon Atonic Gout (Rheumatism). Is it warming, Stops Fermentation in the Stomach and expells the gases.

THEATRICAL PEOPLE whose skin is put to the hardest usage, keep up their strength and freshness with MAC DONALD'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND SOAP. Otherwise the wrinkles would come and their possessors would be "hors de combat", in other words "on the shelf," too old looking. When your livelihood depends on your looks you are pretty particular about your skin.

THE VALUE OF A GOOD TOILET SOAP in the promotion of health is too well understood to require discussion. During life, the skin, in virtue of its continually undergoing reproduction and decay, as well as being an outlet for certain excrementitious materials from the body, is constantly throwing off from its external layer, as effete and useless matter, minute scales. These, mingling with the oily secretions of the cutaneous glands and the saline and aqueous matter of the perspiration, acquire sufficient adhesiveness to form an extraneous layer upon the surface of the body, which, unless daily removed by washing and friction, chokes the channels of perspiration and the oily glands and materially interfere with the general functions of the skin.

MacDONALD'S "KOLA" TABLETS

" COLDs "

Common colds are a frequent affection causing much annoyance, discomfort and loss of time and are not confined to any age, sex or given season, although more prevalent during the fall, winter and spring months, as changes in the atmosphere are causes most frequent and influential. Scarcely a single human being passes through that period without contracting a common cold. Every year a vast amount of time and money are lost by people who are kept away from their business by this malady.

WHAT A COMMON COLD REALLY IS!

A common cold in the head is an inflammation of the lining membrane of the nose. It may be caused by exposure of some part of the body, as the neck to a draught of cold air or the feet and ankles to cold and dampness, getting the feet wet, changes from warm to cold suddenly, irritating gases, vapor, dust of various kinds and no doubt some colds are due to infection from organisms, or germs and these colds may spread from one person to another. "Rhinitis" and "Coryza" are the medical terms for conditions accompanying cold in the head.

Most everybody catches cold or has an attack of the grippe at least once during the fall or winter season and many of us have several during the year. To neglect a cold in the early stages often results seriously. The industrial statistics show that more time is lost in the factories and offices from the common cold than any other cause.

"SYMPTOMS OF COMMON COLDs"

Colds are often characterized by a feeling of fullness and discomfort in the head and the first symptom is sneezing and usually accompanied by a watery discharge from the nose, causing frequent use of the handkerchief and blowing of the nose, also affecting the eyes, voice and upper lip, also a feverish condition with a chilly sensation and feeling sick all over.

"OTHER CONDITIONS OF COMMON COLD"

A great many people when taking cold are troubled with a sluggish action of the bowels and it is often the case that cold attacks those whose physical resistance is below normal because of constipation. People who are in the prime of health are more or less immune to colds, that is, they are better able to resist cold. We always advise using MacDONALD'S AC-SO TABLETS for constipation and sluggish liver and DR. MacDONALD'S ATLAS COMPOUND for the stomach trouble.

MacDONALD'S KOLA TABLETS and MacDONALD'S AC-SO TABLETS are an aid to nature in combating the common cold.

HOW TO USE MacDONALD'S KOLA TABLETS

MacDONALD'S KOLA TABLETS and AC-SO TABLETS have been in use for many years and have given such general satisfaction to those who have used them that they have many times advised their friends to try these remedies.

Headache caused by constipation is helped by taking one or two KOLA TABLETS every four hours, also one or two doses of AC-SO TABLETS.

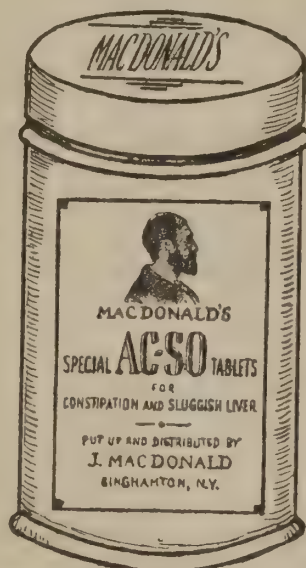

Each tablet contains $1\frac{1}{2}$ grains Acetanilid, Tr. Gelsemium, Tr. Aconite, Capsicum, Atropine Sulphate, and Camphor.

We recommend that at the first sign of feverishness, muscular aches, pains, tickling of the throat and running of the nose, and cold in the head, that you begin at once by taking one or two MacDONALD'S KOLA TABLETS every two or three hours. As these tablets do not act as a laxative, we strongly advise to take several good doses of MacDONALD'S AC-SO TABLETS until the desired effect on the bowels has been obtained, then reduce the dose of KOLA TABLETS by taking one KOLA TABLET every four hours for one or two days or as long as necessary. (Children, half tablet only.) After that a regular treatment of DR MacDONALD'S ATLAS COMPOUND.

Always keep a box of each—KOLA and AC-SO TABLETS on hand for emergency, as colds often come suddenly.

The regular directions for "KOLA" and "AC-SO" Tablets are printed on each box.

WHAT DREAMS MAY COME

There are four kinds of dreams. The first, between sleeping and waking, or dreams proper; the second, those which one sees concerning another, or a vision; the third, those whose interpretation is shown to the dreamer, or a revelation; the fourth, those which are related to the dreamer in a nocturnal vision. There is also a kind of combination of the above called apparition.

Those who would have true dreams must have an undisturbed mind, a sound body and an intellect not made dull by late suppers or strong drink, not sad by poverty, nor excited, angry or incited by vice.

Every dream has its signification and dreams commonly go by contraries. Dreams possess an element of warning and we are more or less informed of events which afterward happen. When the body is asleep the soul is awake and transports itself everywhere, even where the body would be unable to go.

A dream is that which shows the truth hidden under certain things. A vision is simply a thought happening while the person is half asleep and half awake. A reverie occurs when the person has been thinking steadily on a subject throughout the day and dreams of it at night. An apparition is simply a vision that occurs to the individual persons. Dreams that occur while the mind is tranquil and the stomach empty are often fulfilled.

To dream of roads indicates fortune; if clear and bright, good fortune; if dark and gloomy, evil fortune and future reverses. Rings signify marriage, money and friendship. The serpent is the emblem of falsehood and enmity and denotes enemies. It should put a person on his guard, as it forewarns him of trouble, vexation and annoyance. The coffin, the emblem of death, signifies long life and happiness; also an increase of property through industry, it also portends news from friends at a distance. The dog, the emblem of fidelity, denotes friends and jealousy.

These tablets should be taken while using ATLAS COMPOUND.

ATLAS COMPOUND has solved the great problem of how to keep well and how to banish disease arising from Impure Blood. It is marvelous in its results, yet it is perfectly harmless and pleasant to take, as it is a purely vegetable preparation.

THE CAUSE OF DISEASE

If the nervous system becomes debilitated by bad habits, over worked emotions, and the accumulation of waste products from an excessive amount of improper foods and drinks and a deficient body drainage, disease of one kind or another is most certain.

One of the principal causes of Senile decay or aging of the body and hardening of the arteries, is the continuous auto-intoxication of the system through undigested food in the large intestine (the process of digestion is not completed in the stomach) and many people owe their condition to this cause.

Harmony of function and perfect health can only come when the blood is clean and drainage from the body effective and sufficient. We believe experience has abundantly proven that the remedy to keep the vital organs performing their functions properly and in complete harmony is ATLAS COMPOUND. It aids nature in acting favorably on the three great flood gates of the body-skin, bowels and kidneys, which eliminate the waste products.

ATLAS COMPOUND sells on its merits. We believe it is the best Medicine on Earth. It is Marvelous and Truly Wonderful. We receive a good many flattering testimonials about ATLAS COMPOUND; for good reasons we do not publish many of these testimonials. When you hear of these wonderful results you should be convinced that ATLAS COMPOUND is the Greatest Medicine on the market. It sells EVERYWHERE because it HELPS SICK PEOPLE and everybody can afford it. It is the CHEAPEST Medicine.

OUR GUARANTEE

We wish to impress a FACT on the mind of those who are sick and wish to try ATLAS COMPOUND, it is this : Do not expect ONE BOX to help a disease that has perhaps, been years developing. One box will often help acute cases. One box will bring a certain amount of relief, and one box will convince anyone that it is just the medicine they need. All we ask is a trial, but after you have been failing for years and have no doubt tried various other remedies and spent hundreds of dollars for medicines, don't imagine one box will be sufficient.

For sluggish Liver, Biliousness or Constipation, vertigo, great distension of the abdomen, intestinal disorders and as a preventative of Appendicitis, TRY MacDONALD'S SPECIAL AC-SO TABLETS. These may be taken while using ATLAS COMPOUND.
